

After the events of 2022, everything looked bad, although the year 2023

It started as I had said before, but my grandfather's health was delicate

He was still in bed on rest, he could only watch television, but he did not get up

Me and my father went to visit him to see how he was doing, but, although at first

He didn't show anything serious over time his health worsened until one night

It was me and my father with my grandfather when suddenly he plays the next song

Alberto Cortez - When a Friend Leaves - Lyrics

Although at first we didn't understand him very soon I understood him, my grandfather without anyone

I knew he was dying and the worst thing is that my father half realized it by

Some reason he sensed, but he didn't say anything after that my father and I left

From there days later my grandfather died and they held a funeral for him and we all went, but the

My father's evil sisters were hypocrites since they did not value me.

Grandfather in life and now he is and that was not the only thing

What happened, if not my aunt's daughter took pictures of my father while he was crying

That girl was too wicked because someone told us the gossip that that

Niña used to record what we said and what we didn't, the worst thing is that she didn't care about the suffering

Oblivious to the others, all because of his Facebook.

Later, when my mother saw that, she looked ugly at that girl and the girl became

The mensa that nothing happened, however, also another thing is that my father hugged

To an enemy of the family, that enemy of ours was a friend from my father's past

That wretch made me suffer because of him when my mother was pregnant

That guy made my life impossible and wanted my father to get away from my mother

I will only say that because of him I had surgery and thank God the miracle happened

That I survived since I almost died during the surgery and it was not one but several

Moments where I was about to die when I was a baby in my mother's womb

But in the end it was achieved and here I am

Continuing with what I said, my father hugged that wretch and I told my mother

About what happened and she got upset and scolded him once my grandfather's funeral was over

After a month it took my father to get over that, but in the end he managed to do it

One day when I went downtown with my sisters

We arrived and entered the vitamar restaurant where I sat at a table all over the world.

It was normal until we finished eating and that's where I met an older woman

That is, she beat me because she was very old, but she spoke to me and told me

That when she saw me eating a marzipan she craved it and wanted one I didn't know whether to trust her

Or not because of everything I went through in 2019-2022 but in the end I said yes, but I said in my mind where I buy the marzipan

Until out of nowhere a little boy came and he was selling marzipan and I bought one for him

That woman thanked me happily and I saw that she was talking to my 2 sisters

To know more about me in a few words I fell in love with her and my sisters told me the gossip

That woman saw her very much in love and in the end she said goodbye to me and that's how it began

The relationship, despite being someone younger, did not matter to me since she reciprocated me

Even though she was a mature woman, age didn't matter to me and I continued to flirt with her

One day she gave me her WhatsApp number and we started chatting and we realized

That we had the same tastes, I once brought her flowers, although at first I didn't want them

Accept because she didn't want them to wither because she felt ugly

And in the end I accept them, they spent several days like this where I arrived at the restaurant and she once

I cook my cheese-stuffed shrimp and my parents and sister stayed

With her mouth open, my sister said that I left that lady in love with her

One day I brought her chocolates and she liked them, she literally ate them all at once and my sister

I'm sorry for you when I see the scene and my parents too

Everything seemed to be getting better and there's still more one day in February I got my first

Good guy doll I bought it on citadel was from the tots brand and it was the literal plush version

It looked like the one in the first movie and I thanked my mother, although my sister's son was scared

For the chucky and I laughed just like my sister

And in fact while I was holding my doll some children got scared

I'll never forget that day

Although everything was happiness, not everything was because I had to go to the damn dentist

Because I stopped brushing my teeth and that caused them to almost rot

And they put invisible orthodontics on me, the truth was a mess and a suffering that seemed eternal

A long etc. Then the days and a few months passed, but little by little I stopped going out

I left my house and I began to close myself in my own world and only go out on long and interesting trips

One of them was where I heard the next song that identified me with my loneliness and depression

Since the music of 2021-2023 was of pure heartbreak and literal depression even though my parents

They changed stations, there was none except one station where they played music

Classic of the 80s, 90s and 70s

The next song I heard and identified with was this one

Nirvana - Come As You Are; Spanish and English subtitling | Video HD

All of this was happening as I looked out the window of my truck and closed my eyes

As I thought about No. 9 and the bad times of high school and How I lost her

After that, months passed and although he continued to date that woman, he was not

I missed the number 9 a lot and every night I had insomnia, I couldn't sleep

I had strange dreams where I dreamed of number 9 but when I tried to chase her or get close

I ran or ran away from me no matter how much I talked to her, she didn't answer me and left me alone

And also from time to time I dreamed of my old elementary school where I dreamed

That a lot of crazy things happened and there was number 9 but she never spoke to me, she just looked

Or he escaped from me and a long etc.

One day when I went to the Walmart with my parents we did several purchases and in the end when I

My father was paying for the groceries out of thin air, my mother turned around just like me and we saw

That a girl waved her hand at me saying goodbye to me as if she knew her and the worst thing is that

She looked like the number 9 when I was young when I met her in 2012 when we turned around again.

Nothingness went with her parents, but smiled at me without any explanation

I never knew what the hell happened that day

The days continued to pass, but the relationship between my parents worsened as they

My father out of nowhere whenever my sister came, he behaved well sucker and very aggressive and hostile

And he still stared at me, challenged me and lifted me up in front of my sister

And my mother also one day woke up a fake with my Tablet he said it was hers and a lot of more shit

And the straw that broke the camel's back was that my sister told me to leave the house and shut up

And I never met my grandmother, I was sad and I wanted to run away from home, but I didn't

In the end I just left it like that but every day they were more unbearable I couldn't stand them anymore my damn

Sister made my life impossible she told me hints and my father made fun of the mandela effect

In an indirect way and he said that this was the reality of things and I don't know what the else

My parents also called me hints and they were worse than those of number 9

And not only that, they watched the damn Netflix and put pure garbage of satanic movies and some with adult things

And unnecessary rudeness and they insulted the Catholic Church just to with my parents

Several passed and one day while we were in citadel I heard someone shout my name

Which was CHUY that was my real name no one but me knew it, the person

That scream seemed very familiar to me and it was a female voice I looked everywhere, but I didn't see anyone

But my sisters and parents also heard that voice, but we did not know the origin

And who was it however I went to Facebook and I found that the friends of number 9 and number 9

They were in citadel and there was also the girl with the smile which in 2016

I got to know her better, but she also betrayed me in 2019 by joining the 9 gang

They were all in a Chinese tent but that tent was winged where I heard the scream

And on top of that, you could see that number 9 was peeking out where I was, it was more than obvious that she was harassing me

And that she was the one who called out my name, though I never knew how she knew my real name

After that incident, months passed and one day when my sister and I went to a place, something strange happened and that is what happens and it turns out that a lady out of nowhere told us a hint and looked at us ugly

The strangest thing is that neither I nor anyone else knew her, it had already happened to me that several

Random people would do that to me, they would tell me hints or things that only I knew and no one else

My sister told my parents what happened, but they didn't believe us, in the end we forgot it without further ado.

And now I never left the house again

Until the last months came, in those last months my sister introduced me

For a friend of hers, everything was going well, however, things would not go as usual

It will continue....
